Learning Opportunity

This ongoing professional learning series invites K–6 teachers to come together as a collaborative community focused on high-quality social studies teaching and learning. Facilitated by Cheryl Babin & Petronella Bouvier, Designers of Professional Learning from APLC, participants will:

- Engage in rich conversations with colleagues about curriculum implementation
- Gather, share, and co-create practical classroom resources
- Collaboratively design and refine assessment practices
- Work through real-time challenges and celebrate successes

Through a balance of facilitated Grade K-3 and Grade 4-6 break-outs and teacher-led dialogue, this series builds strong networks across schools in Alberta, fosters professional confidence, and strengthens the design and delivery of social studies instruction. Together, we will support students in becoming active, informed, and engaged citizens.

This learning opportunity is being offered through a grant from Alberta Education.

Presenters

Cheryl Babin

Petronella Bouvier

Petronella has recently retired after teaching for 33 years with Northern Lights Public Schools. During that time she has been a Learning Consultant, Assistant Principal, Literacy Specialist and a Classroom Teacher. Petronella has a Master's Degree in Curriculum and Instruction with a dual focus on Reading Instruction and English Language Development. She has been facilitating professional development at a district level since 2007. Her work as a Learning Consultant has focused on supporting teachers and educational assistants in all subject areas and in all aspects of teaching- classroom management and the implementation of curriculum, instruction and assessment through triangulation. Petronella has focused on integrating content area curriculums through backwards design, concept-based instruction, effective questioning and inquiry-based approaches. She believes in creating assessment criteria with students in order to support them in their own learning journey. In her spare time Petronella likes cooking, canning, gardening and exploring the great outdoors.
